Customer Testimonial from a house in Lake, MI that has 28 grains of hardness

The plumber installed the ActivFlo Water Conditioner on Wednesday of this past week, so this weekend I did my usual load of towels and when I took them out of the dryer, I noticed a dramatic difference in the smell. The one from last weekend just smelled dirty (yes, I used soap), and then the towel from this weekend smelled clean!

I also boiled water in a pot and boiled it down to nothing and there was white around the inside, but it wiped right out. Previously the white residue would have stuck to the pot, and I would have had to soak it.

Thank you so much, we love the product
